The Judge entered into a long and convincing argument, in which he demonstrated that the line of policy he had marked out for Utah did not conflict in any particular with the principles of the Nebraska bill, but was he had marked out for Utah did not conflict in any particular with the principles of the Nebraska bill, but was in harmony with the democratic platform in regard to the power of the government over the organized Territories of the United States. I must refer you to a full report of his speech on this point in order to do justice to his position. He said he would be found as willing to meet this Utah question as boldly and to do his duty as fearlessly as he had done on the Kansas-Nebraska bill; and should the President, when he submits his views on this question at the next session of Congress, have no more efficient plan of disposing of the Utah difficulty, he spledged hisself to bring in a bill imbodying substantially the coarse of policy he had thus briefly alfueded to.

After thanking the audience for their attention, he left the stand armid the most tunultuous cheering, and the crowd dispersed, greatly delighted, with three times three for Douglas and the democratic party.

I have thus, I fear at too great length, given you the main points of this great and powerful speech, as I thought its importance at this time demanded this much to besaid. I am gratified in being able to say to you that arrangements have been made to have it published in pamphlet form and in the newspapers, an early copy of which I will send you. As one of the first expositions of the policy of the country since the inauguration of the new administration, its claims upon the attention of the country cannot be overlooked.

Yours truly,

Yours truly,

THE RESULT OF THE SESSION.—The session which has just closed has been fruitful in acts of parliament, railway disgrace, and prospective augmentations of taxation. In politics there has been a dead blight. Ministerialists had dispute; the opposition nothing to urge, because the stry had taken up almost all the opposition measures, which they had hitherto declared to be rank treason. There has, so far as party is concerned, been no conflict no defeat, no triumph.—Montreal Herald, 16th.

A MERITED ACKNOWLEDGMEST.—The Philadelphia American, referring to the recent railroad celebration, makes the following acknowledgment of the courtesy exhibited by the conductors and other officers of the roads over which they passed, the justice of which will be generally cognised by the excursionists:

The whole excursion was not only conceived on a magnificent scale, such as has never been before attempted in this country—there are not railroads enough to attempt it in any other—but the project was falfilled in detail in a manner and with a liberality on all hands that commanded universal satisfaction. No signs of gradging hospitality were exhibited on any road that we have read that contrary, our tickets were not only recognised, but welcomed on routes that were net registered in the programme at all. The feeling and sprit of the population everywhere sympathized with, and responded cordially to this sentiment, and the conductors attached to the trains exhibited an exencst solicitude to render the guests comfortable, as well as to extend every the guests comfortable, as well as to extend every

We would inform our friends of the Journal that in re-lation to this subject Portland is as "calm as a summer's morning." Norfolk may try, and New York may "in-vestigate" to their hearts' content, but it does not enter into our imagination that we shall be "disappointed" in the "honor of entertaining the great levathan." That she will make her first trip to Portland we believe to be a settled fact, and it will require more "investigations" than the New Yorkers can make before the Great Eastern

The Grand Trunk Company have issued their circulars in Europe for booking through pussengers from Great Britain to all parts of the United States and Cunada via Portland per steamer Great Eastern. This steamer is to be launched in August, and is to be fitted immediately, and it is possible she may not be here before the month of October, but that she will come to this port on her first trip is a setled fact.

FREARS OF THE LIGHTSING.—Between ten and eleven o'clock last night a violent thunder storm passed over the city. The lightning was very vivid. A Carco or Irish Grais.—The City of Mobile, Capt. Marshall, sailed from Liverpool for New York on the 26th ult., freighted with over 900 passengers.

Among these are a party of 120 young women and 14 men, members of 133 different families, the expenses of whose emigration are defrayed by public subscription from nearly 4,000 different persons, the majority of whom are laborers and servant girls, to a fund entitled the 'Irish Pioneer Emigration Fund.' The object of the institution of this fund is to mise the wages and otherwise better the condition of the poor families in the poorest districts of Ireland by assisting emigration to the United States or Canada of one member of each family, specially selected on account of good character and industrious habits, in the expectation that the person so assisted will not only better their own condition, but will, according to the generous practices of Irish immigrants, also send for or otherwise greatly help the rest of the family in Ireland.

FIXANCIAL RELICS OF THE PAST.—At the auditor's of-fice yesterday we saw a couple of notes, dated June 18, 1819, one for one and the other for five dollars, issued by 1819, one for one and the other for five dollars, issued by the corporation of Cincinnati, which promises to pay W. Jones or bearer such amounts, and are signed J. Embree, clerk, and Jacob Wheeler, treasurer. Also a five-dollar bill of the Farmers' and Mechanics' Bank of Cincinnati, the first, we lean, established here, payable to P. A. Sprigman, and signed Geo. W. Davies, cashier, and Wm. Irwin, president, bearing date of March, 1813. GENERAL SUMMARY.

There are 750 paper mills in the United States, in which are 3,000 engines, making 900,000 pounds a day, or 270,000,000 a year; 6,000 tons of straw for wrapping paper and posteboards are used, and the average annual importation of rags is 10,000 tons. It is estimated that one and a half pound of rags are required to make a pound of paper, and the cost of labor is one and a quarter cent for each pound of paper. They were unusually abundant last spring, and this spring are still more so, approximating to the condition of things in this respect at the settlement of the country. The boats are supposed to have disturbed the fish in their spawning opperations and thus have diminished their numbers.

Monthsomery White Sulphur Straight. We understand that the season is about to open at this watering three under the most favorable adoptices. Since last year a considerable addition has been made to the accommodations of every description; and from its convenience of access, together with the inducements of scenery and climate, to say nothing of the high character of the water, the proprietors of the Montgomery White Sulphur Springs have every reason to addictate "a good time coming" [Richmond Emminer.]

A few years ago, a volume was published in England and republished in this country, giving an account of a Russian expedition, under Dr. Parrot, to the summit of Mount Ararat, on which Noah's Ark is supposed to have rested after the Deluge. It has been made a question of doubt whether the doctor ever reached the summit. A more recent party has succeeded in the attempt, and they contend that they were the first that ever trod the spot since the descent of Noah and his sons, and declared their belief that Dr. Parrot never reached nearer than a towing in the vicinity, where he made his observations, and got up his story.

At no period in the history of our government has Congress been more liberal in appropriating money for the improvement of our city than at the last; and among the items of supropriation was the sum of $5,000 for a Belgian fovement at the intersection of Seventh street and Pennsylvania average. The contract for laying this pavement was promptly given out by the Secretary of the Interior, and we are pleased to see that the work has been as promptly performed. The Chesapeake and Ohio Canal.—The Chesapeake and Ohio canal has been, of late, almost constantly out of repair, and unceasing have been the efforts of its board of directors to put it in a serviceable condition. Not only have large sams of money been realized by the contractors for its construction, but corresponding sums have been lost in the same way.

For the past month we have heard most flattering accounts of the repairs at dam No. 5, and great has been the rejoicing of our business men in the hope of a speedy reopening of navigation. Now, however, it is a question whether or not these repairs will ever be completed in a satisfactory manner; for intelligence has reached us that, on Tuesday last, while the workmen were lowering the on Tuesday last, while the workmen were lowering the last or centre crib (about one hundred feet long) into its place, it broke into a number of places, and was carried off by the current. This accident has caused considerable excitement all along the canal, and not a little indignation against the superintendent. The work which has already been done has cost something more than $50,000, and has been productive of no real good, and the expenditure of a like sum, we fear, would hardly secure uninterrupted naviga-tion for the remainder of the present season. Neverthe-less, it is desirable that the canal should be put in good boating order with the least possible delay, as the carrying business of the section of country through which it runs has got sadly behindhand. We hope soon to hear better news from dain No. 5.
